Personal Metaphors

- (I.) If I were an animal I would be a hedgehog because they are moisy but cute.
- (II.) If I were a car I would transform into ^a yellow submarine because cars are boring.
- (III.) If I were an article of clothing I would be a sock because they are happy even if they are alone.
-  (IV.) If I were a day of the week I would be Saturday morning when I have had enough sleep.
- (V.) ... I would be pasta with mushrooms and cream sauce because it is the best food.
- (VI.) ... I would be yellow because it makes you feel better just by looking at it.
- (VII.) ... I would be About Time, because it can change your point of view on life.
-  (VIII.) ... I would be peach, because it is like a warm, soft blanket wrapped around you.
- (IX.) ... I would be a small house next to the sea, because it has the most wonderful view.
- (X.) ... I would be a cactus, because it is probably the only plant I can't kill.
- (XI.) ... I would be a double bass, because it is like a big, friendly bear.
- (XII.) ... I would be a line, because it is endless.
- (XIII.) ... I would be a table, because that is the place where my family laughs the most. by Beatrix :)
- (XIV.) ... I would be Here comes the Sun, because even when your day is grey it can make it brighter.

SEPTEMBER

"I think the world needs more of empathy."

"I think the world needs less plastic."

We should try and understand others. Everyone of us gets caught up doing something and some drama and basically life, but we can sometimes forget our friends and family and what they are doing and going through. They could be going through something similar or even worse than us. It's nice to understand and care about each other.

It is good that we are already limiting the use of plastic straws but in my opinion they should be banned because in reality we don't need straws. Yes some people do need them like children, patients and the elderly, but for them we should make reusable straws from glass. And these are only straws we should ban bottles, bags and well everything that is for 10 uses or less. In the oceans there is already a France sized plastic plateau and we don't need more.

October

Today Autumn now reigns the country -
Cheer Yourself Up!

Got the blues? Down in the dumps?

Make a long list of crazy things you could do to distract yourself from the bad weather or your troubles. Some possibilities - play Frisbee with your old, worn-out records, smile all the way through class and make your teacher wonder what's going on, or cover your front teeth with foil to make it look like you wear braces. Think of your own ideas, both sane and crazy. You might want to draw cartoons to go with some of your ideas.

COLOURS

- tickle my room-mate while the ♥ will be probably kicking me
- throw myself to the pile of leaves
- Save yourself if you can!
- dance in the rain
- watch film with room-mates on your sheet
- watch TV so loud that the house is shaking
- smile and pretend you are your favourite harts
- try not to crash the car
- try to be happy for the whole day
- cry until you feel red the tomato
- create a board of your life (probably of your travelling circus with
- explore different activities
- make a -mate throw up
- try to make new friends
- tell me what day only in English or German (even if you don't know the words - make them up)

How to...

write a paper explaining how to do something somewhat strange (something we do not usually give or take instructions for) - football practice, how to break a heart, how to survive to get suspended, how to make enemies, how to lose a job, how as a list. Get the idea?

Recipe: How to make friends?

→ You need:

- a stranger
- courage
- some words

→ Choose one person and walk closer.

Then start a conversation with him. Try to avoid the phrase: "It's a beautiful / nice weather, isn't it?"

You can help yourself with the next few sentences!

"You had a beautiful shirt, what did you buy it?"

"Do you like looking much?"

"Do you usually talk to strangers to make friends or no?"

"Do you have a dog?" (You don't need fear for better and worse!)

"Oh, I really hate people that think that I'm crazy, just meant to start a conversation with them. (I hope you aren't one of them)"

If his reaction is suitable, a friendship with him will be perfect. If not, try to change yourself or other ingredients (a person you talk to). No rule is holy, whether it's made from wrong ingredients.
